

Winter, Markim Hall

Markim Hall, home of the Annan Institute for Global Citizenship, is Macalester's first LEED Platinum Certified building and one of the first campus buildings in the nation to earn the U.S Green Building Council's highest-level certification for energy efficiency and environmental design. The building's design and construction support the IGC's mission and reflect the college's deep commitment to sustainable practices and responsible citizenship.

WORLDS FIRST CARBON NEGATIVE FURNITURE DESIGNS
Celebrating 50 years!

Stanley Shetka and Collateral Healing, Inc., has created the world's first carbon negative furniture 50 years ago. His patented equipment and technology can utilize all paper, plant, plastic, wood, glass, solid waste and minerals into state-of-the-art high-end products. The entire process creates products that will last for hundreds of years into the future. Within the heart of the Collateral Healing Epoch System is a patented sculpture system that sequesters carbon, creates energy, filters air, purifies water, and continuously enriches the soil with good carbons. The Collateral Healing Epoch, is ready for production and will require continued R&D as installations expand into world communities. Stanly Shetka created signage, windowsills and counter-tops made from 100% paper and plant byproducts.

WORLD ART PROJECT® & COLLATERAL HEALING, INC.©

Markim Hall Signage: Stanley Shetka designed and created all the signage in Markim Hall made from 100% Newspaper byproducts.

WORLD ART PROJECT® & COLLATERAL HEALING, INC.©

Stanley Shetka and Collateral Healing, Inc. designed, produced and installed all the Window Sills made in Markim Hall, made from 100% paper and plant byproducts

Stanley Shetka's Kitchen Countertops are made from 100 percent paper byproducts. The products are "class A" fire, smoke tested and certified.

- Macalester building receives highest LEED rating – MPR.org
- Editorial: Macalester shows how to LEED – StarTribune.com
- First Green Building for Macalester College Opens to be The New Home for the Institute for Global Citizenship – azocleantech.com